What is The Payout?

The event will award a $750,000 guaranteed payout with equal money in all four disciplines.
The event payout includes the following bonus payouts. The full payout will be posted once it is finalized.
World Champion - $5,000 bonus per discipline per leaderboard
All-Around Champion - $20,000 based on total cumulative discipline points from combined leaderboards
Event Champion - $60,000 per discipline

What are the Nomination Dates?

The 2022 Women's Rodeo World Championship Leaderboard – WCRA Segment W22 (W22) - will run from October 4, 2021 starting at 12 a.m. CT and will remain open until April 17, 2021 at 11:59 p.m. To participate in the WCRA, an athlete just needs to register as a user in the WCRA Virtual Rodeo Qualifier (VRQ). No membership dues or fees required. Visit wcrarodeo.com to register.

Who is eligible to nominate?

The world championship event is open to any female athlete over the age of 13 years old competing in breakaway roping, barrel racing, and team roping. The official event ground rules are being updated to reflect the 2022 format changes. Once they are available for review, they will be posted on the event webpage – www.wrwc.rodeo. If you have event questions, please send them to support@wcrarodeo.com.

Challenger Classification updates

Rodeo Logistics will update Challenger Classifications quarterly. Athlete earnings in GBR and BAW will be reviewed at the end of each yearly quarter to verify classification status. If an athlete is promoted out of the Challenger Leaderboard, the athlete's total points and any Qualifier Series generic qualifications in that discipline will be moved to the PRO Leaderboard. Team Ropers will be required to show proof of their classification. Any roper classified as a #4.5 or less is eligible to compete as a Challenger. The WRWC Competition Committee reserves the right to verify or modify any classification based on known information.

World Championship – based on cumulative leaderboard points

World Champions will be crowned in all disciplines from both the PRO Leaderboard and the Challenger Leaderboard. In addition, the All Around World Championship will be awarded based on total points earned from the combined PRO/CHL Leaderboards.

World Championship cumulative points will accrue through the entire segment (October 4, 2021 – April 17, 2022) and extend through the WRWC Qualifying Rounds, Semi-Final Round and Aggregate. Refer to the charts below to review the World Championship Points available during the WRWC event.

The Showdown and Triple Crown rounds occur after the World Championships have been awarded. These rounds will not be included in the cumulative points for the 2022 World Championships.

How many times can I enter each discipline?

Athletes are allowed one (1) entry per discipline in the 2022 WRWC event.

Athletes seeded in the Showdown Round (Leaderboard #1) are eligible to participate in the Qualifying Rounds for payout, World points and All Around points.

How do athletes earn W22 Leaderboard points?

An athlete must nominate and earn points at any event with publicly verifiable results on the VRQ. Eligible events must be an OPEN event where all ages can compete. Once you pay your nomination fee, if you place in a paid position at the event, WCRA will input the results into its system, and your points will be applied during the weekly leaderboard update.

Team Roping Nominations/Points

Team Roping nominations are now organized in the Virtual Rodeo Qualifier (VRQ) by the class, rather than by the event. It is important that all team ropers select the class you wish to nominate. This will ensure that you will receive points for the roping class that you intended to nominate.

You can still nominate once for a class and receive points for your highest placing inside of that class. But you can no longer nominate an event and get points for your highest placing out of all of the classes.

We made this change because in some cases, jackpots were being ranked too high due to being grouped with multiple classes of ropings. So, moving forward Team Roping jackpots will now be listed in the VRQ separately by classes. This allows each roping class to be ranked by its total payout rather than including other roping classes, which may be affecting the ranking and making it too high.

Example: A World Series roping pays out over $200,000 on a weekend but the Open class may only payout $9,000. So, rather than an athlete paying a Division One $200 nomination fee for roping in the Open, the athlete would pay for a Division Four $50 nomination fee.

Barrel Racing VRQ Points - As of January 13, 2022, points will be awarded as follows for barrel racing events:

- Silver Alliances and higher with “D” formats: Points awarded to nominated athletes up to the top 20 fastest times
- Bronze Alliances and lower with “D” formats: Points awarded to nominated athletes up to the top 10 fastest times
- Non-alliance “D” formats: Points awarded to nominated athletes up to top 10 paid places
- All straight pay barrel racing formats (Alliance or Non-Alliance): Points awarded to nominated athletes up to top 10 paid places”

Who participates in each section of competition in the event?

About the Women's Rodeo World Championship (WRWC):

The WRWC is the largest annual purse for a women's rodeo event and will payout $750,000 in 2022 while crowning World Champions. WRWC is a culmination of a year-long race of women's rodeo events worldwide. Athletes qualify for the WRWC by earning points and leaderboard positions using the VRQ (Virtual Rodeo Qualifier). The championship event will be split between The Historic Cowtown Coliseum and Dickies Arena. The first three rounds of competition will be at Cowtown Coliseum May 16-18, in conjunction with PBR World Finals.

About the World Champions Rodeo Alliance (WCRA):

WCRA is a professional sport and entertainment entity, created to develop and advance the sport of rodeo by aligning all levels of competition. In association with the PBR, WCRA produces major rodeo events, developing additional opportunities for rodeo-industry competitors, stakeholders, and fans. To learn more, visit wcrarodeo.com. For athletes interested in learning more about the WCRA Virtual Rodeo Qualifier (VRQ) system, visit app.wcrarodeo.com.

About PBR and WCRA Partnership

In early 2018, PBR and WCRA announced a collaboration to jointly produce, market, and promote rodeo events in an effort to expand television and digital coverage of the sport, build the profiles of the world's best rodeo athletes, and grow the sport's fan base. All WCRA events will be broadcast live on RidePass (PlutoTV Channel 720), the definitive source on western sports and lifestyle, which delivers fans the most entertaining, authentic, and accessible western sports experience in the World.

PBR and WCRA formed a partnership to grow the rodeo industry by delivering new events, new money, and new opportunity. We aspire to create four annual large payout rodeos, giving athletes a chance to compete for millions. This partnership, which complements rather than competes with existing events and organizations, will give more rodeo athletes more earning potential.

WCRA leverage PBR's expertise in bringing exciting, successful events all over the country, producing world-class broadcasts, and creating star athletes. These new rodeo events will offer incremental earning opportunities for athletes while bringing rodeo events and the world's top competitors to new markets.

How does someone download the app?

The app is available through your web browser at app.wcrarodeo.com. It is a mobile formatted webpage, not a native app and therefore not available in the app store. Learn how to add it to your home screen in seconds HERE.

Who maintains the VRQ?

Rodeo Logistics was contracted to develop the VRQ for the WCRA and has created software that has successfully managed tens of thousands of rodeo athlete nominations worldwide. In addition, Rodeo Logistics developed and launched the WCRA VRQ Entry Tool which has processed several thousand rodeo entries.

How long is the WCRA Season?

WCRA divides the calendar year into segments. During a segment, athletes are earning points to qualify to compete at the Main Event/Major. A Major is an event that is Triple Crown of Rodeo eligible, whereas a Main Event is non-Triple Crown of Rodeo eligible. Points accumulate during each segment and have a deadline where points cut off. The points reset at the start of each new segment, with the exception of points that users have accumulated for nominating future segments.

Adding an event?

WCRA has over 60,000 events in their database, but if you cannot find the event you are competing at, you are able to add the event into the WCRA Database.
